The following is a wonderful poster, not received in time due to Covid interruptions in school and could not be judged.

LABMF would like to highlight the following poster entry by Stephany Melgar Montoya of Stamford HS, in Connecticut. Even though this entry could not be judged as our contest is limited to RI students, health teacher Shari Pace teaches the topic of dating violence to her students yearly and this poster is an example of how she inspires her students. Thank you to Ms. Pace and all the health teachers across the US who provide their students with the knowledge and skills to prevent dating violence.
